Charlotte Memorial Hospital
Charlotte, North Carolina

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Undoubtedly the highlight of NCLN's Year for the total membership is the annual convention. Many members and friends will be gathering in Charlotte for the Convention proceedings, March 17-19. Your Program Committee is planning to assist North Carolinians concerned with meeting the nursing needs of the people, to move ahead in the directions which were set when the "Guidelines" were endorsed at the 1964 Convention. The 1965 Convention, with its theme - GUIDELINES FOR MOVING AHEAD - OUR FIRST STEPS - promises to provide baseline knowledge of the goals of general education beyond the high school, and a considerable depth of knowledge of all types of nursing education programs, and of NLN accreditation. Opportunities will be provided for informal discussion and conferences with the speakers, in addition to the formal presentations. It would behoove the conventioners to arrive at Charlotte, armed with searching questions regarding the impact the implementation of the "Guidelines" will have on nursing service as well as on nursing education in North Carolina. Through clear understanding, we can look for increased impetus toward the accomplishment of the "Guidelines" goals, so greatly needed for the achievement of the League goals.

Another highlight of the NCNL convention is always the opportunity presented to the membership to exercise their right to vote on issues and officers. The membership has been vocal during the past two years regarding several issues, and these will now be presented to the members for a vote. One concerns the framework of the organization itself, the other deals with who is elected and how the election is carried out.

Your Board of Directors last year assumed the responsibility delineated by the Resolutions Committee, to work toward securing the services of an executive secretary. Since this must remain a long-range goal, an effective way to assure continuity of leadership for the organization in the interim is to be presented to you, in the form of a By-Laws change which provides for a President-Elect. Members have said that the present structure with its hierarchy of Divisions and Councils, but without any clearcut organizational lines of authority for these two groups, is cumbersome, and actually diminishes the ease with which activities can be accomplished. A By-Laws revision proposes elimination of Divisions and Councils, with ongoing activities to be carried out by Ad Hoc committees appointed by the Board of Directors. The creation of more elected positions on the Board of Directors will assure continued board representation of the total membership. Finally, the request has been made for each member to have an opportunity to vote on officers, through adoption of the procedure of mailed ballots. A By-Laws revision provides the mechanics for this.

All of these matters will be presented to you at the convention for your decision. Information regarding the proposed changes is contained in detail in this issue of the NCLN Newsletter. Study the proposals well, and attend the convention if possible to let your voice be heard on these proposals.

The North Carolina League for Nursing has witnessed unprecedented growth in the past two years, both in membership and in clarifying the direction in which it must assist the state to move. In March, 1963, the membership was 435. We can expect more than 564 members by March of 1965. March of 1963 saw the members recognizing a need for definite goals toward which to move in improving the picture in the provision of nursing services in North Carolina. By March of 1965, there can be a reckoning of progress made toward the achievement of goals which have been identified in this two year span as necessary to meet the nursing needs of the people. This progress has been possible because of the concerted efforts of many people, and of many organizations with whom NCLN is closely allied.

This is the era when issues related to health are of primary importance to us as a nation and as a state. We who are particularly concerned with that portion of health care which relates to nursing, have a great responsibility to assure that the directions being taken are sound and truly progressive. The North Carolina League for Nursing is moving into a role of increasing responsibility, in which its mature judgment will be an important factor in future growth of health programs in North Carolina. My esteem and support goes to those who will carry forward the programs just barely begun. My sincere appreciation goes to all who have contributed so greatly to the progress of the past two years.

Sincerely,

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE TO IMPROVE PATIENT CARE IN NORTH CAROLINA

The principal objective of the North Carolina Committee on Nursing and Patient Care is to "Concern itself with activities involved in providing better patient care in North Carolina ..." A contributory objective is: "To afford a medium for liaison between the three groups primarily and directly responsible for caring for the sick, namely, physicians, nurses and hospital administrators."

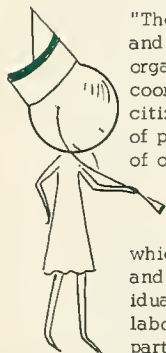

The North Carolina Hospital Association says in its statement of purpose, "The ultimate objective (of the Association) is promoting better hospital and medical care for all of the people. The Association encourages professional education and cooperation with other organizations having a similar purpose in doing those things which best promote patient care. It believes that one of its most significant contributions to better patient care is that of bringing together at regular intervals doctors, nurses, administrative personnel and others who provide patient care."

The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina in its statement of purpose states that its objective is, "The extension of medical knowledge, and the advancement of medical science; to elevate the standards of medical education and medical service, and to promote friendly intercourse among physicians and to enlighten and inform the people with regard to the great problem of medical care and public health, so that the profession shall become more capable and honorable within itself, and more useful in the prevention and cure of disease, and in prolonging and adding comfort to life."

The N. C. State Nurses' Association says in its statement of purpose, "The primary purpose of the professional organization of nursing is the promotion of a program of work directed toward achieving better nursing care through improving the economic and professional status of nursing, and through improving career opportunities in this profession. Service to mankind in relation to health and well being is the primary function of nursing."

The N. C. League for Nursing says in its statement of purpose, "The object of this organization shall be to foster the development and improvement of hospital, industrial, public health, and other organized nursing services and of nursing education through the coordinated action of nurses, allied professional groups, other citizens, agencies, and schools to the end that the nursing needs of people will be met. To develop a program for the improvement of organized nursing service and education in North Carolina."

Total patient care today involves all of these major disciplines which in turn require greater coordination, cooperation, understanding and communication between the major disciplines as well as individual recognition that allied professional and technical groups, i.e. laboratory, x-ray, nutrition, physical therapy, etc., are a vital part of the overall effort.

The individual objectives of the major disciplines for providing health care recognize that the ultimate objective of providing better patient care for the people of North Carolina can best be served by greater cooperation, coordination and communication, not only among themselves but with the various allied agencies representing technical specialties that have direct responsibility for patient care.

We therefore endorse this joint statement of purpose of the N. C. Committee on Nursing and Patient Care, and pledge our full cooperation in implementing its objectives as follows:

To encourage and cooperate in the continuing improvement of patient care through the establishment and operation of a Patient Care Committee in every hospital.

To encourage the invitation of nursing supervisors to attend clinical staff conferences.

To encourage supervisors of other allied departments to attend scientific meetings.

To encourage full interchange of representatives of the major disciplines at regional, state, and national hospital and medical conferences.

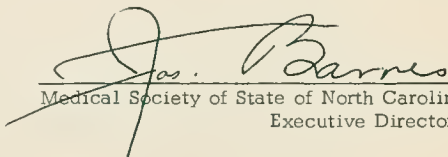

To encourage the exchange of views on matters of mutual concern through publications of the interested groups.

To endeavor to bring about a united presentation to the public of mutual health problems.

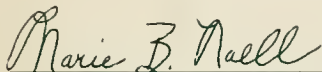

In these and other ways we will strive to promote a more harmonious intramural relationship with other professional and technical organizations in the health field to the end that better patient care will be provided for the people of North Carolina.

ID HEALTH CARD AVAILABLE

A Personal Health Identification Card carried on one's person at all times can save time and possibly a life in case of an accident. It also encourages individuals to keep a current medical history for quick reference and reminds one of expired immunizations.

The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina has available these health identification cards for distribution in bulk to professional and lay groups for their distribution to individuals. There is no charge for these cards. The supply is limited.

For the past seven years county medical societies have distributed those cards at immunization clinics. We might suggest local organizations which have funds available for individual postage might wish to order a supply of these cards and announce in their local newspaper their availability and give the box number of their organization so individuals and families can order them, etc.

NEWS FROM NATIONAL

● Recognition of NLN as the accrediting agency for nursing programs under the Nurse Training Act of 1964 - The Division of Nursing, Public Health Service, has just notified schools of professional nursing officially that NLN has been designated by the Commissioner of Education as the accrediting body for the purposes of the Nurse Training Act of 1964.

In this action the commissioner also recognized that at present "no single accrediting body or group of accrediting bodies is satisfactorily meeting the needs for accreditation of associate degree programs in nursing on a nationwide basis... (and) has reserved the right to approve additional accrediting bodies for programs at the associate degree level at a later date if necessary."

We hope the latter will not be necessary. The League is moving rapidly to strengthen its program of accreditation for associate degree programs. A new administrative unit has been planned to facilitate this. The NLN Board of Directors has approved the establishment of a separate department for associate degree programs when this is feasible, both from the standpoint of financial support and program. Final action on a new department, however, cannot be taken until the membership so approves at convention.

NLN's education steering committees, boards of review, and headquarters staff also are gearing to meet the responsibilities the League will face as the accrediting agency for all professional nursing programs under the Nurse Training Act. New procedures have been instituted so that any school may seek eligibility for Federal funds. An expanded program of consultation to schools of nursing is anticipated. This will mean more visitors and more work for each visitor. We know League members will respond willingly and competently as they always have done in League activities.

NLN NAMES NEW ADMINISTRATIVE HEADS

The National League for Nursing, New York, today announced the appointment of three staff members to administrative posts, effective January 1, 1965.

Martha D. Adam, R.N., has been named director of the Division of Nursing Services. Formerly director of the Department of Public Health Nursing, Miss Adam is succeeded in this post by Hedwig Cohen, R.N.

Mary F. Liston, R.N., Ed.D., director of the League's Mental Health and Psychiatric Nursing Advisory Service, has been named director of the Division of Nursing Education.

The NLN Division of Nursing Service includes the Department of Public Health Nursing and the Department of Hospital Nursing. The Division of Nursing Education encompasses the Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs, Department of Diploma and Associate Degree Programs, and Department of Practical Nursing Programs.

Miss Adam has been a member of the League staff since 1958. Before this she was director, Public Health Nursing Services of San Mateo, California; nursing service educational director for the Community Service.

Miss Cohen was editor of Public Health Nursing, official magazine of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing when this agency merged with several other national nursing agencies and committees to form the National League for Nursing in 1952. Earlier she had served with the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society of Washington, D.C., and with the Henry Street Visiting Nurse Service in New York.

Before joining the League in 1952, Dr. Liston had been an instructor in psychiatric nursing at Seton Psychiatric Institute, Baltimore; assistant professor at Catholic University, Washington, and instructor and advisor in psychiatric nursing at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

Other NLN Appointments....

Mrs. Jane Lee, former member of the Steering Committee, NLN Council Occupational Health Nursing, was appointed nurse consultant with the Occupational Health Nursing Section, Division of Occupational Health, U. S. Public Health Service. Mrs. Lee was former supervisor of nurses for Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation in Pittsburgh.

Edna May Klutas, Vice Chairman, NLN Council on Occupational Health Nursing, was appointed to the staff of the U.S. Army Environmental Hygiene Agency. Miss Klutas will provide consultation services in occupational health nursing to occupational health programs at Army installations. She is the first nurse to be appointed to this position.

● National Student Nurses' Association announces the appointment of Mary Dennesaites, R.N. as assistant director of the National Student Nurses' Association (NSNA) was announced today by Frances Tompkins, executive director. The new assistant director will assume her duties at NSNA headquarters in January 1965.

Miss Dennesaites has worked for the past two years as editorial staff assistant for the American Journal of Nursing and is currently attending New York University. Miss Dennesaites graduated from St. Therese School of Nursing in Waukegan and has attended the University of Illinois. She is a native of Chicago and, before coming to New York, worked there as a staff nurse at Holy Cross Hospital and the Illinois Psychiatric Institute. She has also worked as an industrial nurse.

● To Deans and Directors of Collegiate and Diploma Schools of Nursing....

This is to inform you officially that the National League for Nursing has been designated by the Commissioner of Education as the accrediting body for the purpose of (P.L. 88-581), The Nurse Training Act of 1964.

For your ready reference, the accreditation requirement for participation in each of the various provisions of the Act is summarized as follows:

Accreditation by National League for Nursing or a finding by the Commissioner of Education of reasonable assurance of meeting accreditation standards in a limited time is required for

1. construction grants to new schools, including those schools which have not been in existence long enough to seek accreditation.
2. project grants for the improvement of nurse training.
3. establishment of student loan funds.

Accreditation by National League for Nursing is required for

1. construction grants to existing schools.
2. formula payments to diploma schools.

Schools of nursing whose programs are accredited by the National League for Nursing automatically meet accreditation requirements for participation in all provisions of the Nurse Training Act.

Reasonable Assurance of Accreditation is defined in Section 843 (f) of the Act which provides that:

"... a program which is not, at the time of the application under this title by the school which provides or will provide such program, eligible for accreditation by such a recognized body or bodies, shall be deemed accredited for purposes of this title in the following cases if the Commissioner of Education finds, after consultation with the appropriate accreditation body or bodies, that there is reasonable assurance that the program will meet the accreditation standards of such body or bodies (1) in the case of an applicant under part A for a grant for a project for construction of a new school, prior to or upon completion of the facility with respect to which the application is filed; (2) in the case of a school applying for a grant under section 805 for a project to strengthen, improve, or expand its programs to teach and train nurses, prior to or upon completion of the project with respect to which the application is filed; and (3) in the case of a school seeking an agreement under part B for establishment of a student loan fund, prior to the beginning of the academic year following the normal graduation date of students who are in their first year of instruction at such school during the fiscal year in which the agreement with such school is made under part B..."

President's Message

North Carolina League for Nursing members displayed no fear of unlucky numbers at their thirteenth Annual Convention in Charlotte in March. Nor was fear displayed in the examination of the issues presented and discussed which are basic to the education of the contemporary and future nurse practitioner. Pertinent questions were raised, freely discussed and honestly answered. And of equal importance there was freedom to admit that there are many areas in which the solutions to critical problems still elude our concerted efforts.

The changes in the Constitution and Bylaws are intended to provide a less cumbersome organizational structure for achieving the goals and activities of the North Carolina League for Nursing through implementation of the Guidelines. This action made way for Ad Hoc committees to utilize simultaneously the special knowledge of both nursing education and nursing service representatives. Your Board of Directors is already at work studying ways to fully exploit this liberalizing provision.

The Ad Hoc Committee for Planning for Accreditation Services (a continuation of the Special committee within the Division of Nursing Education last year) is taking action in exploring a new way to assist schools in this sphere.

Committee chairmanships have been filled with willing dedicated people and the response to requests for committee service have been immediate and enthusiastic. I look forward to meeting with these key people in North Carolina for Orientation Day on May 15 where we expect to give focus to our individual contribution to meet the nursing needs of the people of this state.

I know that each member has special skills, knowledges and interests which could be of great service to North Carolina. We have tapped only a small percentage of our total membership which is approaching 600. May I urge each of you to write at once if you wish to participate in a specific project or community activity which might be embraced within the framework of the North Carolina League for Nursing. And lastly, may we be reminded that every League member has the obligation to serve as a well informed interpreter of nursing to potential nursing students, their parents and their communities. The preparation of the numbers of nurses so vital to health needs of North Carolina must be based on educational excellence appropriate to each type of program. Each of us has the moral responsibility to prevent wasting of our most precious commodity - human resources - by supplying that information which will enable each individual to select the nursing program most appropriate to her needs and capabilities.

I look forward to the opportunity for working closely with so many of you in our new League year.

Sincerely,

Audrey J. Booth

A Review of Committees on Nursing in North Carolina

By

Howard R. Boozer, Assistant Director
North Carolina Board of Higher Education
Presented to 13th Annual Convention-NCLN, March 1965

Introduction

The Coordinating Council of the North Carolina League for Nursing and the North Carolina State Nurses' Association, made up of the Boards of Directors of the two organizations, met in Charlotte on March 17, 1965. On the agenda, among other things, was a review and discussion of "the present complexity and possible duplication of efforts for the improvement of nursing in North Carolina." This discussion was arranged in order (1) to acquaint those present with the existing organizations, committees, and other groups looking at some aspects of nursing, particularly nursing education, (2) to share information about the purposes of each of these groups, and (3) to identify gaps or unnecessary duplication in the hope that both may be kept to a minimum. This paper has been prepared in the belief that brief statements concerning the various committees would be of interest to a wider audience.

The Committees on Nursing

Eight committees concerned with nursing are discussed below. The related concerns of a number of other agencies and groups are not reported here because they have been interpreted as being beyond the purview of this summary.

I (1) The North Carolina Committee on Nursing and Patient Care. This committee was established in 1951 and includes twenty-one regular members, two honorary members, and eleven ex-officio members, for a total of thirty-four. The twenty-one regular members consist of ten representatives of statewide health organizations and eleven public members. This Committee is a "quasi-official coordinating agency for major health groups in the state, both governmental and voluntary," and is concerned primarily "with activities involved in providing better patient care in North Carolina." It recently released a joint statement of purpose that was signed by the appropriate representatives of the North Carolina Hospital Association, the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina, the North Carolina State Nurses' Association, and the North Carolina League of Nursing. The statement will be used "as a basis for developing a continuing program to improve communication between the disciplines" as these groups, and others, pursue their common goal of providing better patient care for the people of the state.

(2) The Committee of Physicians on Nursing of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina. This Committee of nine physicians has been in existence for a number of years. Its purposes are comparable to those of the AMA Committee on Nursing as published in 1962:

The program of the AMA Committee on Nursing is based on three assumptions: (1) that nurses have a separate and distinct professional status and their contributions are those of co-workers; (2) that nursing should expect the medical profession to support and endorse high standards of nursing education and service; and

(3) that each of the various levels of academic and technical accomplishment in nursing makes its own unique contribution to the total health care of the public.

After listing six objectives adopted on the basis of these broad assumptions, the committee concluded this report on its objectives and program with the following paragraph:

If the medical and nursing professions are to make the fullest use of their joint potential, they must have not only a common denominator of interest in the patient, and a comparable body of knowledge, but also the kind of relationship that derives from a deeper appreciation of, and respect for each other as allies working toward the same goals.

(3) The Council on Nursing of the North Carolina Hospital Association. This council has not yet been created. A draft statement indicated that the proposed council will have "an active interest in all matters pertaining to nursing service and nursing education" and will "attempt to achieve a continuing liaison with organizations engaged in such matters with a view of participating in decisions affecting the quantity and quality" of nursing staff.

(4) The Special Committee on Education for Nursing in North Carolina of the North Carolina League for Nursing and the North Carolina State Nurses' Association. An ad hoc Committee on the Study of Education for Nursing in North Carolina in 1963 and early 1964 developed "Guidelines" (some say "Guideposts") for a projected system of nursing education in the state which were adopted by the Coordinating Council of the NCSNA and NCLN in March 1964, and subsequently by the two parent groups. One of the recommendations of the "Guidelines" was that the Coordinating Council appoint a Special Committee on Education for Nursing in North Carolina "to study and promote the implementation of the recommendations" contained therein. This thirteen-member committee was appointed in November 1964 and consists of six representatives of the NCSNA, five representatives of the NCLN, and one each from the staffs of the State Board of Education and the North Carolina Board of Higher Education.

(5) The State Advisory Committee for Practical Nurse Education and Selected Health Occupation Courses of the Department of Community Colleges, State Board of Education. This committee, consisting of thirteen members, was appointed by the Department of Community Colleges in November 1964. Some of its areas of concern are (a) curriculum development, (b) interagency and intergroup relationships, (c) program evaluation, (d) research, and (e) trends in practical nursing.

(6) The State Advisory Committee for Associate Degree Programs in Nursing of the Department of Community Colleges, State Board of Education. This seventeen-member committee was appointed by the Department of Community Colleges in January 1965. This committee will be a valuable aid to the State Board of Education as associate degree programs in nursing are developed in selected community colleges of the state over the next several years.

(7) The Advisory Committee on Nursing Education of the North Carolina Board of Higher Education. This committee was appointed by the Board of Higher Education in early 1960. It was active through 1961 and in November 1964 was reactivated and enlarged. It now has fifteen members. It served as the advisory committee to Mr. Ray E. Brown in his 1964 Survey of Nursing Education in North Carolina, sponsored by the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, the State Board of Education and the Board of Higher Education. Representatives of each of these groups, as well as nurse educators, hospital administrators, physicians and others are among the members of this committee.

(8) The Joint Committee on Nursing Education of the State Board of Education and the North Carolina Board of Higher Education. This committee, appointed in January 1965, consists of ten regular members, and two ex officio members from the staffs of the appointing agencies. Responsibility at the state level for nursing education programs in tax-supported community colleges and senior institutions rests, respectively, with the State Board of Education and the North Carolina Board of Higher Education. In the recent Report of the Survey of Nursing Education in North Carolina, Mr. Brown recommended that a joint committee on nursing education be established by these two boards "in order to assure systematic planning...on a Statewide basis." Hopefully, such a committee will "assure unified planning, prevent competition, and serve to minimize gaps and duplications between the nursing education programs of the two State Boards as well as between the programs of the tax-supported institutions and those of voluntary institutions. It [will] be concerned with both long-term planning and current nursing education programs." 6

● Conclusions

All but the first two of the eight committees named above have come into existence or have become active within the past twelve to eighteen months. The number of members total 113, involving eighty-seven individuals. A dozen or so persons serve on two or more committees, often ex officio, usually by virtue of their positions on the staffs of organizations and agencies. These committees fall into several categories; some serve useful clearinghouse functions as communications mechanisms, others are action committees with definite responsibilities; some are related to voluntary organizations, others are advisory to official state agencies.

The constructive interest in nursing education on the part of many groups is of course commendable and should be nurtured. No one would propose, however, the indiscriminate proliferation of formal committees, and where there are such groups care should be taken that duplication of activities be kept to a minimum. It would be useful if more ways could be found for these committees to share information about their concerns and to plan cooperatively. The improvement of nursing education is a goal worthy of the best efforts of all concerned.

New North Carolina Practice Act-1965- The proposed bill was described in NCSNA Tar Heel Nurse, March 1965. There were two changes in that draft and the final draft (which became law in May 1965) omitted:

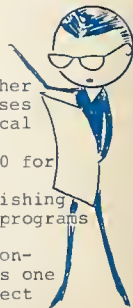

- The requirement that the Governor appoint members of the Board of Nursing from list submitted by respective organizations:
- The provision that any individual, institution or agency employing an unlicensed person for nursing function shall be guilty of a misdemeanor:

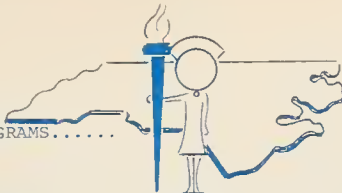

The Main provisions of the Act are as follows:

1. Clarifies an ambiguous Nurse Practice Act.
2. Provides for mandatory licence.
3. Created one board-The N. C. Board of Nursing--other than the two existing boards, with practical nurses participating only in matters relating to practical nursing.
4. Provides for biennial renewal of licence of $5.00 for two years.
5. Gives Board of Nursing responsibility for establishing details of standards for schools of nursing and programs of practical nurse education.
6. Provides a new category--conditional accreditation--for schools of nursing with deficiency and allows one year instead of six months for a school to correct deficiencies.

Eugene J. Smith, Director of Nursing, Charlotte Memorial Hospital announces a series of seminars to be held at Charlotte Memorial Hospital for members of the professional nursing staff.

The theme of the first four seminars to be held monthly for four consecutive months will focus on the preparation and utilization of the product of the three types of educational programs preparing registered nurses.

Dorothy M. Smith, Dean, School of Nursing, University of Florida, will be the keynote speaker at the opening seminar in October. Dean Smith will speak on the trends in nursing education and how nursing service and nursing education working together can best accomplish the objectives of preparing the nurse for the future.

There will be a keynote address by each participant in the seminar in the evening to which nurses in the community will be invited. The following morning the nurse visitant will meet in small group sessions with members of the nursing staff and the faculties of the schools of Charlotte Memorial Hospital for informal discussion.

Other nurse educators and administrators from various localities throughout the country have been invited to participate in relation to the three types of educational programs. These visitants will be announced at a later date.

- THE PROFESSIONAL VOLUNTEER NURSING SERVICE AUXILIARY of Charlotte Memorial Hospital held its first annual meeting in April. The organization was formed to render professional nursing service to patients at Charlotte Memorial Hospital on a volunteer basis. Another objective of the group is to interest nurses in returning to their profession. The third objective is to keep the nurse up to date by means of monthly educational programs.

In April, 1964, fourteen registered nurses responded to newspaper publicity on the idea of nursing on a volunteer basis. A week later, nine of the volunteers from that group met to set up bylaws which were approved by the hospital administration.

After an orientation and refresher course, eleven members began working on a volunteer basis. Two of these members have returned to active general duty nursing.

The group of volunteer nurses, totaling fourteen active members, has contributed a total of 1,415 hours of actual nursing service over a nine month period which is equivalent to 35 weeks of full time nursing, or the equivalent of a full time nurse for each week during the time the volunteer service has been in operation.

A second group is now completing an orientation and refresher course which will give a total of twenty-two members.

Eugene J. Smith, Director of Nursing, met with the group at their first annual meeting to commend these volunteers and express the appreciation on behalf of administration and members of the nursing service department.

NEWS FROM NATIONAL

● National League for Nursing

ANA-NFLPN-NLN Relationship

The following statement which was approved by the National League for Nursing was sent out as a news release by the ANA on February 26, 1965. This statement is being sent to you for your information, interpretation and necessary action.

"The American Nurses' Association, the national professional association for registered nurses, and the National League for Nursing, the national association for the community interests of nursing, both recognize the National Federation of Licensed practical nurses. Since that organization was founded in 1949 it has been so recognized by national organizations in the field of nursing. The ANA and NLN believe that just as every registered nurse should be a member of the professional association, the ANA, every licensed practical nurse should be a member of the national association, the NFLPN.

"The ANA recognizes and gives official support to the NLN as the national accrediting agency for all basic nursing education programs preparing student for licensure as registered nurses or as licensed practical nurses. This recognition and official support extends to the practical nursing programs as it has developed within NLN during recent years. This program is also recognized by NFLPN which voted in 1964 to support the development of accreditation within the Department of Practical Nursing Programs of the NLN."

FROM MEMBERSHIP NEWSNOTES NLN

Many SLN newsletters list the names of new members, we're happy to note. At least one, that of the North Carolina League for Nursing, also includes transfers into the state. A friendly, welcoming gesture, don't you agree? (And aren't they lucky in North Carolina to have an editor who can draw such "Breeseey" sketches!)

GRADUATE EDUCATION

Psychiatric and mental health nursing is offered at the masters and post-masters level. Preparation is offered for leadership positions, such as clinical specialist in psychiatric nursing, teaching, supervision, administration, consultation, and research in psychiatric and mental health nursing. Some of these programs prepare nurses to function as mental health consultants in public health positions. Preparation for psychiatric nursing of children is also offered in several schools.

National Institute of Mental Health traineeships or other scholarships are available in most schools. Specific information about scholarships and a list of accredited schools may be obtained from the National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, Maryland 20014, or NLN, 10 Columbus Circle, New York 10019.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The welcome coolness of the shortening summer evenings, the bright promise of brisk mornings, and the first hint of reddening leaves bring an excitement of new beginnings to be made, new tasks to be done, and new knowledge to be shared. We all respond to the stimulation that a new school year brings--whether our personal involvement is that of getting a child off for the first day of school, launching a teen-ager on a course of study toward that long debated career, or preparing to receive these eager young people into an educational program for which we have responsibility. Few of us remain untouched by the contagious enthusiasm of the season.

Whatever our individual job commitments, as North Carolina League for Nursing members, we all have the opportunity to direct this enthusiasm constructively toward the continued improvement of nursing in our state.

I am delighted to report to you that your Officers, Committee Chairmen, and Committee Members have been very productive in their efforts right through the summer months. They have worked diligently to plan an unprecedented number of summer meetings around and between much needed vacation schedules.

The League office move has been completed and Mrs. Louise Koonce, our capable new secretary, has received an avalanche of work to be done from all quarters.

Jan David's Program Committee has progressed well along the way with a coordinated annual convention program for March.

Doris Crutchfield and the Membership Committee have been busily acquainting all new professional nurse graduates in the state with the meaning of membership in N. C. L. N.

The Careers Committee, under the direction of Marion Wood, has awarded the first two North Carolina League for Nursing scholarships. The first two recipients are graduate nurses studying for a baccalaureate degree. I know that each of you will take the opportunity to contribute to this fund as evidence of your interest in providing tangible support to better preparation for North Carolina nurses. We urge you to tell your families and co-workers about it. Assistance must be widely sought.

The Constitution and Bylaws revision has been completed and printed through the efforts of Margaret Shetland and Ruth Dalrymple, Co-Chairmen. Copies are now available in the League office and will be distributed at the annual convention.

Some of you will be hearing from Chairman Sister Mary Elizabeth and the Nominating Committee as soon as they prepare the slate for the 1966 election. If you are their choice please give careful consideration to their request for your special talents.

The "behind the scenes" Public Relations and Headquarters Committees are cooperating in efforts facilitating the plans of several other working groups.

The Ad Hoc Task Force Committee directed by Mary Walker Randolph has completed, on very short notice, their reactions and comments on the progress of the current work of the National Task Force study group. It will be my pleasure to represent North Carolina as one of the thirteen State Leagues invited to discuss the work further, at an October conference.

Two other Ad Hoc Committees have been at work through the summer months. The Committee on Consultation Services for N.L.N. accreditation, chaired by Ann Jacobansky, will have held their conference in Burlington on September 9th, by the time the N.C.L.N. News reaches you.

The Nursing Services Committee, under the chairmanship of Mary V. Cheek have questionnaires out to Hospitals who have used management consultation services. This is in preparation for an October meeting of the Committee with Ann Mathews, U.S.P.H.S. consultant and a representative of a private consultant firm.

The Ad Hoc Committee on Clinical Resources is presently being activated with Wilma Minniear serving as Chairman. Their goal will be to further the Durham County Pilot study on the use of such resources which was begun last year under the sponsorship of the Medical-Surgical Council.

Elizabeth Jukes is heading up a joint Ad Hoc Committee on Teaching Nutrition in Nursing Education which has membership from both the North Carolina League for Nursing and the North Carolina Dietetic Association. Miss Jukes is a representative on the same committee nationally so we look forward to close and cooperative communication through this group.

Mr. John W. Moffitt, of the Hospital Savings Association, was appointed Chairman of the Finance Committee at the June Board of Directors meeting. The Recommendation of his committee for the 1966 budget will be presented to the Board in December.

We take pride in the achievements of each committee as we realize that the personal contribution of time and effort of these individuals would be far beyond our reach if they were not voluntarily given without remuneration. There has not been an increase in dues since the N.C.L.N. was founded thirteen years ago, but I would suggest that we review our conservatism in this area. It is my personal opinion that our organization must have adequate funds, through dues to support the secretarial and supporting services necessary for an expanding program.

I believe that we have reason to be proud of our membership of nearly 600. More than 100 of you are engaged in a specific activity supporting the North Carolina League for Nursing programs or as representatives to other organizations. As we strive for greater membership, let us also strive for individual participation of every member in at least one activity. It is through our concerted efforts that the goals we visualize will be reached.

Sincerely,

Audrey J. Booth

Audrey J. Booth
President

FROM THE MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS
June 17, 1965--Blair House, Durham, N. C.

Mr. John William Moffitt, a new member of the North Carolina League for Nursing was appointed Chairman of the Finance Committee. Mr. Moffitt has been associated with Hospital Savings Association for a number of years and is an active worker in scouting, civic and church affairs.

The appointment of a new Ad Hoc Committee on Use of Clinical Resources for Nursing Education was authorized to continue the work of the 1964 committee sponsored by the Medical-Surgical Council. Miss Wilma Minniear has accepted the chairmanship of this committee.

The appointment of a new Ad Hoc Committee on Teaching Nutrition in Nursing was approved. Elizabeth Jukes was appointed as Chairman.

Miss Mary Walker Randolph was appointed Chairman to an NCLN Ad Hoc Committee on Task Force. The committee function will be to study the current NLN Task Force report and submit suggestions and comments. Committee members appointed were Mrs. Helen Miller, Miss Clyde Hogsed and Mrs. Margaret Rosser.

Lots were drawn to determine lengths of terms on Board of Directors for Mrs. Pauline Ashley and Mrs. Elizabeth Padgett. The members were elected from the Division of Nursing Education and Nursing Service respectively with the understanding that lot would determine which person served the one year term. Mrs. Padgett will serve one year. Mrs. Ashley will serve two years.

OTHER COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS:

---Mr. Norman Liske, Chatham Hospital to the Careers Committee.

---Dr. Robert Cadmus and Mrs. Wilma Lewis of Chapel Hill to Nursing Services Committee.

ANNUAL DUES:

Dues for 1966 for the NLN have been raised from $5.00 per year to $10.00 per year. This change was approved by a nearly unanimous membership vote at the Annual Convention in San Francisco. In accordance with this action, 1966 dues for the NCLN members will be--

$10.00 to NLN
5.00 to NCLN
$15.00 Total Dues

This is the first dues raise since the NLN founding in 1952. Some members may recall that NCLN reduced their dues during the mid-fifties. However, because of increased cost and expanding services the NCLN Board unanimously approved recommending to the membership an increase of $5.00 in the state apportionment. This recommendation will be voted on at the 1966 convention and if passed, will be effective in 1967, making our dues----

$10.00 to NLN
10.00 to NCLN
$20.00 Total Dues

Delegates to the Southern Regional Council of State Leagues appointed by the Board are Miss Audrey Booth, Mrs. Patricia Conklin, and Miss Anne Pleasants White.

COMMITTEE ON CAREERS: Miss Marion Wood, Chairman

An Historic first-- Your contributions to our scholarship fund made it possible to make two awards of $100 each to students this year. We are pleased to announce that the recipients were Miss Louise Royster, R. N., a student at N. C. College at Durham and Miss Belinda Kidd Boylin, R. N., a student enrolled in the U.N.C. School of Nursing.

Our goal is to offer more scholarships each year. If every member of the League were to contribute $1.00 or more, we would have about $500.00.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER BAN STUDY IN N. C.

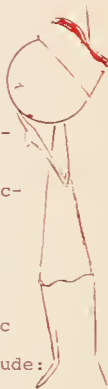

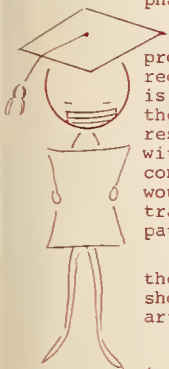

Page 5 of a Statement Prepared for Presentation to Speaker Ban Study Commission of North Carolina on September 8, 1965 by Frank G. Dickey, Executive Director, National Commission on Accrediting.

....."The question has been raised as to what effect the loss of accreditation by the Southern Association or any regional association would have upon the accreditation provided by these professional groups. In order that we might have such information readily available, a study was made by the National Commission on Accrediting several years ago, and the professional accrediting agencies were asked to indicate what their courses of action would be if an institution or a system of institutions should lose their accredited status in the regional association. I think that it will be of interest to you to know that of twenty-three professional organizations responding, three would immediately drop the institution from their accredited list if the regional association had dropped these institutions. These areas include: engineering, landscape architecture, and nursing. Nine of the professional organizations would have an automatic review of the situation, and the possibility of removal from accredited status would be most likely. These include: journalism, library science, medicine, music, optometry, pharmacy, psychology, theology, and architecture.

Six other fields have indicated that they would in all probability review the case and take action since their regulations require regional accreditation if the school is accredited in a professional field. The reason that these six associations are not as positive in their action results from the fact that they have not been confronted with such a possibility and have nothing definite in their constitution or by-laws indicating the procedures which would be taken. These six fields are: business administration, forestry, public health, social work, speech pathology, and audiology, and teacher education.

Several other professional fields have indicated that their present regulations are not definitive enough to show clearly what their actions would be. These include: art, chemistry, dentistry, law, and veterinary medicine.

My reason for citing these individual fields is to indicate that loss of accreditation in the regional association has a direct bearing on the accredited status of institutions in the professional fields as well. The reason for this tie-in results from the conviction on the part of the professional areas that the total institutional accreditation provided by the regional association is the only guarantee that they (the professional associations) have of the strength of the college of university as a totality.".....

COPY OF LETTER FROM NCLN TO SPEAKER BAN STUDY COMMISSION

The Board of Directors of the North Carolina League for Nursing, in executive session on September 16, 1965, unanimously approved that the following recommendation be transmitted to the Chairman and members of the commission studying H.B. 1395:

The members of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina League for Nursing recommend that the act to regulate speakers on state-supported campuses be repealed.

The membership of the North Carolina League for Nursing is composed of a variety of disciplines with the common bond of working for the improvement of nursing---education and services---in North Carolina.

The threat to the regional accreditation of state supported institutions of higher education would endanger the national standing of our state supported programs in nursing. The accreditation of those programs currently nationally accredited would be automatically revoked should regional accreditation be lost. This fact is documented by the statement of Dr. Frank Dickey, Executive Director, National Commission of Accrediting, which was presented before the Speaker Ban Study Commission. (See attachment)

In 1964 there were 683 graduates of North Carolina schools of nursing who wrote the licensure examination for the first time. 306 or 45% of these were graduates of nationally accredited schools of nursing. The failure rate of those who graduated from nationally accredited programs was 7.6% while 36.9% of the graduates from programs not nationally accredited failed.

Why destroy the standing of those few state supported schools that have already reached this standard?

Sincerely,

Audrey J. Booth

Audrey J. Booth
President

An excellent report by Rena Boyle on federal legislation and NLN's accrediting programs appears in the March 1965 issue of Nursing Outlook.

● ANA

- WASHINGTON, D. C., September 8, 1965.....Leaders in the field of professional nursing today asked a U.S. Senate Subcommittee not to adopt a legislative amendment which would eliminate national accreditation of nursing schools as a requirement for obtaining federal funds. The amendment, which was attached to a bill in the House of Representatives, would change the original wording of the Nurse Training Act and would apply to baccalaureate and junior college professional nursing programs.

Testimony was presented before the health subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

Mrs. Margaret B. Dolan spoke in behalf of the American Nurses' Association and Lois M. Austin presented testimony for the National League for Nursing. Mrs. Dolan is Professor and Head, Department of Public Health Nursing, School of Public Health, University of North Carolina, and immediate past president of the ANA. Dr. Austin is chairman of the Division of Nursing Education of the School of Nursing, University of Pittsburgh, and current president of the NLN.

Both Mrs. Dolan and Dr. Austin cited evidence that accredited nursing programs enroll and graduate a greater number of students, attract better qualified faculty, and equip nursing students for higher performance on state examinations than do non-accredited programs.

The technical amendment, which was attached to the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act (H.R. 3141) would replace national professional accreditation of baccalaureate and junior college nursing programs with regional or state approval. H.R. 3141, including the technical amendment, was passed in the House of Representatives on September 1. The Senate, however, is also considering its own bill (S. 595), which does not contain the amendment. A strong record opposing the amendment was made on the floor of the House before passage of the bill. If the Senate approves its own bill, conferees from the House and Senate will meet and consideration will be given to removing the amendment. Testimony presented during the Senate hearings cited reasons for removal of the amendment and refuted attacks which have been made on the system of national accreditation of professional schools of nursing.

Both the ANA and NLN pointed out the importance of improving nursing education as well as spending public funds only on nursing programs of high quality.

Mrs. Dolan noted that, "One of the ANA'S purposes is to promote the professional and educational advancement of nurses and its platform further commits it to elevating standards of nursing education and to promoting legislation that will provide...continued improvement in nursing education." Dr. Austin said that, "Professional accreditation safeguards the quality of nursing education and the public has a right to have its tax funds expended for good education."

Both organizations called attention to the fact that the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act fosters national accreditation in medicine, dentistry, osteopathy and optometry, but that the amendment singles out nursing by removing quality controls enjoyed by related professions.

Extensive evidence presented by the ANA and the League shows the relationship between national accreditation and the quality and quantity of nurses graduating from nursing programs. According to Dr. Austin, "Professional education...is essential if the schools are to attract the number of well-qualified students and well-prepared faculty who together work toward the betterment of nursing education. We know that professional accreditation is a major force in achieving maximum educational effectiveness and in meriting public confidence."

Mrs. Dolan pointed out that, "It would be ironic if a government which has demonstrated its very great interest in all education and has enacted such significant legislation in support of education were now, through this amendment, to sanction the lowering of quality in nursing education."

Also appearing as expert witnesses for the National League for Nursing were Mrs. Lulu W. Hassenplug, Dean, School of Nursing, University of California at Los Angeles, and Miss Eleanor Tourtillott, Coordinator, Education for Nursing, Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn, Michigan.

The National League for Nursing has been designated by the Commissioner of Education as the accrediting agency in nursing for the purposes of the Nurse Training Act. Mrs. Dolan emphasized that the ANA supports the National League for Nursing as the national accrediting body.
